5. Archiving (physical)

Physical copies of Nexus newspapers can be archived at either the city archives in downtown Victoria or at Camosun's library. Greg recommends keeping the archives at Camosun's publicly accessible library.

Camosun's print shop is able to bind older copies of Nexus so they can be archived, but hasn't provided a cost estimate.

Celina will contact Greg so he can get in touch with Nexus' current printer for recommendations and/or an estimate for the cost of binding the old newspapers. He will also get in touch with Camosun's print shop to see if it'd be possible to get a quote from them.

6. Archiving (digital)

Mack will begin developing a plan detailing necessary improvements to Nexus' website to increase the accessibility of older articles. This includes functions that would allow people to sort articles by author and year published. Mack will reach out to Camosun's computer science department to find possible volunteer web developers for the project.

7. President's Resignation Note

Celina is transitioning out of her role as President of Nexus' Board of Directors as she's no longer a Camosun student and won't be available for meetings next term.

8. President's Duties

Celina outlined the president's primary duties, which include hosting Nexus' AGM and board meetings, and creating meeting agendas. She will send an email with more details to interested board members.

9. Referendum preparations

Nexus will be aggressively campaigning for the 2024 fall term referendum. Mack suggested beginning a social media campaign focusing on Nexus as a point of pride for Camosun (like volleyball) and will email Greg for more information about Nexus' social media presence.

Keith left the board meeting early.

Celina highlighted the importance of visibility, with Camfest and the campaign days leading up to the Referendum vote being key events. Mack suggested reincorporating 'man on the street' interviews to increase visibility.

Sam will set up a Nexus Board of Directors Discord Server.

10. Adjourn 5:50PM
